CONGRESSIONAL HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress,
Seventh Ohio District

In a special message to Congress last Thursday President Roosevelt officially requested the appropriation of an additional $5,985,000,000.00 for Lease-Lend purposes. It will be remembered that late last March Congress appropriated $7,000,000,000.00 for Lease-Lend, which amount the President's latest request for Lease-Lend appropriations followed by only three days his second report to the Congress on Lease-Lend expenditures. The President reported that up to August 31st, $190,447,670.00 worth of Lease-Lend articles had been shipped from America, practically all of which went to the British. Out of the $7,000,000,000.00 originally appropriated as a result of contracts made or goods actually ordered under the Lease-Lend program. Three and one quarter billion dollars additional have been allocated for future purchases and contracts. However, the President's report does demonstrate clearly that the actual delivery of Lease-Lend goods to Great Britain and her allies during the past five months has been much less than the general public was led to expect.

Mark on your calendar the date of September 16th, 1941. The future will prove it an historic date. It marked the entry of the United States into a shooting war, Secretary of the Navy, Frank Knox, speaking before the national convention of the American Legion on Monday the 15th, made the announcement—"Beginning tomorrow, the American Navy will provide protection as adequately as we can make it for ships to every flag carrying lend-lease supplies between the American Continent and waters adjacent to Iceland. The Navy is ordered to capture or destroy by every means at its disposal Axis controlled submarines or surface raiders encountered in these waters." The Navy Secretary's statement, of course, simply followed and supplemented the President's radio address of September 11th. It means not only that the United States Navy is to convoy American shipping, destined for Iceland, but is also to convoy to waters near the British Isles, the ships of all nations carrying munitions of war to Great Britain. The President long ago stated that—"Convoys mean shooting and shooting means war." The Presidential orders to the Navy to shoot first, and to capture or destroy by every means at its disposal Axis controlled submarines or raiders, also means war. The only matters that remain to be determined are just how soon the actual fighting begins and how far the United States will go in sending armed forces across the sea to participate in the European conflict. All of this has come about without a declaration of war by the Congress, as required under Article I Section 8 of the Constitution of the United States.

The American people may, or may not, be given information regarding any encounter between American naval vessels and the war craft of the Axis Powers. All will depend upon the wishes of the President, for at a White House press conference early last week President Roosevelt told those assembled that he will be the sole judge of what the American people shall know about the carrying out of his "shoot on sight" order to the Navy. Mr. Roosevelt stated that the Administration may not make public any new sea incidents; and that the situation at the time will determine the sinking of any additional American-owned or operated vessels, or any encounters of American naval vessels with Axis submarines or surface craft.

The new tax bill is now a law, having completed its way through legislative channels on Capitol Hill early last week and being promptly transmitted to the President for his signature. Before the approval of the conference report was voted, Chairman Doughton, of the Ways and Means Committee, told the Congress that the Administration and his Committee have already begun work on a new tax bill to correct, change and strengthen many features of the measure then under consideration. This corrective legislation, he predicted, will be enacted before the first of the year. Chairman Doughton also warned that a new tax bill can be expected early next year, unless it is dropped according to reports.

Britain Has Big Supply Of Wheat

The Associated Press Tuesday carried a story that Baron Woolton, London, Eng., in a speech, stated that Britain now had the biggest storage of wheat at any time in the history of the country. She is entering the third year of the war with plentiful stocks of all kinds of food. The food ministry has ordered a reduced price on bread to all consumers effective October 6th.

Meantime the Agricultural Department in Washington is announcing that we must raise more food for "defense" in England and nations fighting Hitler. The New Deal is also importing about one, and one half million bushels of wheat a month from Canada to hold down the price of wheat grown in this country to the American farmer.

Tom Donnelly, Jr., Yellow Springs, figured in an auto accident Monday night. He was charged with intoxication while driving. He was fined $50 and costs on plea of guilty. He paid $25 and the balance is suspended on condition he does not return to town for any purpose.

Fin Grindle, who spends most of his time at the county home, is changing residence this week. He returned here Tuesday evening in a rather liquid condition and put up resistance when Marshal Marshall was called to west Xenia ave. Mayor Evans handed out a fine of $50 and 30 days and the sheriff Spahr, Xenia. It is said he has of late left the county home without permission on numerous occasions.

He was also in charge of a forestry survey in Greene County more than a year ago. Recently he has been with the state highway department as a testing engineer.

WAYNE COUNTY FARMERS WANT AAA KICKED OUT

The county commissioners in Wayne county, Ind., Richmond, received a petition, signed by some 1500 farmers asking that the AAA be set out of the court house, according to a story in the Cincinnati Enquirer. Farmers in that county are refusing to recognize the AAA. In Wickard's own county, the AAA was put out of the court house by Democratic commissioners.

ROSS VOTE CLOSE

At the election of delegates to the AAA county meeting, Herschel Long was selected as well as most of the court house. Following discussion of the fourteen farmers present a vote was taken on sentiment as to how the farmers feel towards the present board. The vote was seven favorable, five against, and two not voting. The fact that only 14 farmers in a township without a municipality attended such a meeting, speaks for itself.

WAR TAX ON PICTURES

Wheat Veto Is Attacked By Cong. McGregor

Cong. J. Harry McGregor, Coshocton, Rep., in a speech before Congress Monday, attacked the Roosevelt veto of the wheat bill which was passed to eliminate the 40c penalty. He said in part:

"A clause contained in H. R. 5300 was similar to my bill, H. R. 5303, which allowed the farmer to feed his surplus wheat without penalty during the year 1941. By this veto the president is forcing our American farmer to pay a penalty of 40 cents a bushel. His argument for veto seems to be that we have a surplus of wheat in the United States and he is vetoing the bill in order to maintain high prices. Cites imports.

"If this is correct, I should like to ask some of the Democratic leaders on the other side of the aisle why we are allowing to be imported into the United States approximately 1,500,000 bushels of wheat each month? This wheat is put on the market in direct competition with the wheat of our American farmer.

"I have been trying to find out the tariff on this imported wheat, but no one seems to want to give me the information, so until I am informed differently, I am relying on the information that this wheat is being brought into this country on a tariff not to exceed 9 cents a bushel. If such is the case, the present administration is penalizing the farmer of America 40 cents a bushel over that of the farmer of other countries.

"I hope some of my friends on the other side of the aisle will give an answer to why this is being done."

McGregor the next day amplified his remarks as follows:
"Mr. Speaker, Yesterday I made the accusation that this administration is allowing 1,500,000 bushels of wheat to be imported into this country under a 9-cent penalty and at the same time is penalizing the American farmer 40 cents a bushel for surplus wheat. Up to this time this statement has not been denied.

"Upon returning to my office this morning, I received a report that under the lend-lease bill this administration is purchasing wheat from Canada and sending it to England. I have tried to verify this report but can find no official who cares to discuss the subject. Therefore, until this report is officially denied, I am considering it to be correct.

"I am asking you—Is it fair to penalize the American farmer for growing a product and at the same time purchase this product from Canada, pay for it with the American taxpayer's money and send it to England?"
Greene county farmers demand to know how the County AAA stand on importation of Canadian wheat to keep down the price to the American farmer?

Gas Line Employees Start Trouble Sunday

A large number of laborers working for a company repairing the 16-in. gas line that runs across the county north of town decided to take things in charge Sunday following a night of celebration.

It is said some wanted to go to work while others were not in condition and the management wanted everyone to sober up a bit. Sheriff Spahr and Deputy Barnett were called to guard the property but the men left following the arrival of officers. The incident happened near the eastern Greene-Clark county line.

Congressman Wants Control Of Prices

Congressman Albert Gore, Tenn., announced this week that he was opposed to the present price fixing plan and that he would offer a bill of his own that would control wages, salaries, commissions as of Oct. 1st and a long list of farm products. However, he did not include cotton, chief farm product of the south. Gore also disagrees with his administration on Leon Henderson, Communist, named by Roosevelt as price fixer.

HIGH WIND TAIL OF SOUTHERN HURRICANE

This section was visited Thursday morning early by one of the highest windstorms we have had in recent years, estimated at thirty-five or forty miles. There was much damage here and there to shade and all kinds of fruit trees. The loss to fruit growers will be heavy. The utility companies were kept busy all day restoring service to patrons. There was no rain, which is badly needed for fall seeding. We are informed in some sections the wind was strong enough to whip the ears of corn from the stalks.

SCHOOL NEWS

Kindergarten School Opens

The first Kindergarten school, operated by a Board of Education, in the history of the Cedarville Schools opened this week with an enrollment of 15 pupils, under the direction of Mrs. Doris Abersold. Mrs. Abersold, who lives near Jamestown, comes highly recommended and is well qualified for this work.

A number of additional children are expected to enroll next week increasing the total enrollment to at least twenty-five pupils.

The Kindergarten school is operated as a part of the local public school system under the direct control of the Cedarville Board of Education. A tuition fee of 50 cents per week is charged to partially cover the operating expenses.

The Kindergarten is now located in the primary room of the First Presbyterian Church, however, this is only temporary until arrangements can be made for a permanent location either in the College Library or the Public School Building.

Local Minister Addresses Assembly

The curiosity of the group assembling in the auditorium Monday morning was aroused by the letters, BEAST, placed in a prominent position in the front of the room. The Reverend R. A. Jamieson used this as his subject for a lively and humorous talk in which he showed how people sometimes have animal-like qualities such as those of hogs, mules, monkeys, and other animals. To get the best from life it is necessary to eliminate such qualities in our character, and then the word "BEAST" with the letter A omitted becomes BEST, he said.

Baseball News

In the games last week Cedarville was defeated by Bellbrook 4 to 1, but won the game with Yellow Springs 9 to 8. The next four games scheduled are as follows:

Spring Valley, there, Tuesday, September 30.

Jamestown, here Friday, October 3.

Beaver, there, Tuesday, October 7.

Bowersville, here Tuesday, October 14.

Cafeteria Supper
We hope the patrons of the school will plan to be with us again this year at the annual cafeteria supper on Friday, October 17.

Chico

Fraunce Jolley, business manager of the Chico is preparing to launch a Chico Subscription Campaign within the next few days. The Chico staff and their advisors are working now on the first issues of this year's paper, which will appear sometime in the early part of October. This group enjoyed a picnic at Bryan Park last Thursday evening.

Junior Class Activities

The selecting and ordering of class rings on Monday was an important event for the Juniors. Another important activity will be the Junior Class Play which is to be presented this autumn instead of in the Spring as has been the custom in previous years.

Freshman Initiation

If any freakish-looking people are seen in Cedarville High School Friday afternoon, it will be safe to guess that they are obedient freshmen doing the will of the dictating sophomores. The initiation will culminate in a freshman-sophomore party Friday night at the home of Phyllis Shinkle.

Fire Destroys Barn Thursday Morning

Fire destroyed a large barn on the farm of Mrs. Ida Stormont about seven o'clock, Thursday morning. Mrs. Stormont had just finished milking and gone to the house when she discovered the fire a short time later. It had broken out in the southwest corner where the electric service entered the structure. The origin is thought to have been defective wiring.

In the barn were five cows, two burned to death and two damaged, while the fifth escaped without injury. There was no other live stock.

The loss covered not only the barn but about 40 tons of alfalfa hay, some small grain, fertilizer and much of the farm machinery and tools.

The barn was erected following the burning of a former barn in 1919 and was in good condition. The loss is estimated at more than $5,000 with $2,000 insurance.

WILBERFORCE U. CROWDED

C. C. Jenkins, superintendent of the education-industrial arts college, Wilberforce, states that the housing situation for some 700 students has become a problem this year.

M'LEAN HELD GUILTY; JURY OUT ONE HOUR

The jury in the H. A. McLean manslaughter case returned a verdict of guilty after being out one hour.

The trial of H. A. McLean in Common Pleas Court opened Tuesday with the selection of a jury which was then brought to Cedarville in charge of Sheriff Spahr and deputies to view the scene of the shooting of Wallace Collins on the night of July 3rd. The charge of manslaughter having been placed against the former village marshal by grand jury indictment.

The jury hearing the case was as follows: Lee J. Fudge, Xenia; John C. Ferguson, Silvercreek township; John Moore, Bath township; Jesse Huston, New Jasper township; George Walsh, Xenia; Rudolph Weber, Xenia; Mrs. Esther Taylor, Silvercreek township; George Glass, Ross township; Joseph Curl, Miami township; Paul Harner, Xenia township; Joseph Wead of Xenia, and Mrs. Olive Barnes, of Xenia.

The first witnesses were: Coroner H. C. Schick, Xenia; Dr. R. R. McClellan, Xenia, surgeon; Dr. Donald Kyle, Cedarville; Mrs. Helen M. Kyle, wife of the physician; Sheriff Walton Spahr, Harold Cooley, Cedarville, and Robert O'Bryane, Cedarville, with Sheriff Spahr and Deputy Earl Conner, who were called following the shooting.

Sheriff Spahr said the marshal confessed the shooting the next day after a paraffin test of his hands, conducted by two officials from the London State Bureau of Identification, proved he had discharged a firearm within the last 24 hours. The missing gun was recovered from a cistern, where it had been thrown by McLean.

Both of McLean's guns were introduced in evidence, as was the shattered rear window glass of the Collins boy's car.

The marshal, Sheriff Spahr testified, admitted he stepped behind a bush at the corner of his house and fired at the Collins automobile, but later claimed he intended to hit a tire and did not mean to hurt anybody. The gun "jerked up," McLean said, according to the sheriff.

Two other occupants of the Collins car, Harold Cooley and Robert O'Bryane, among a group riding about town discharging firecrackers, testified they passed McLean's home twice.

Cooley, standing on the running board on the right side of the machine, said there were two boys in the front seat, one in the back seat, three on the right running board and one, young Collins' brother, on the left running board. He did not see the marshal when the automobile went by the house, he said, although he noticed him downtown earlier in the evening.
O'Bryane, riding in the rear seat, said he saw a man on the front porch of the McLean home the first time the car went past, and that lights inside the residence were burning. On the second trip past, the shades were drawn, he testified. He admitted knowing that the "torpedo bomb" trick had been played on the marshal, but had no hand in it, he said.

Coroner Schick read a report of his findings on the youth's body and said three pieces of the fatal bullet were recovered, two from young Collins' head and one on the floor of the car, indicating the bullet had shattered when it first struck the window glass.
Dr. Kyle, attending physician, who performed the autopsy, said the youth died within 15 minutes after being brought to his office. Meanwhile, he said, Marshal McLean had arrived, but did not inquire about the case. Dr. Kyle's wife testified she telephoned McLean at her husband's request and said the officer asked her what kind of an accident had befallen young Collins. Dr. McClellan, who assisted in the autopsy, and accompanied Sheriff Spahr to the McLean home on the night of the shooting, testified the elderly officer denied to him that he had shot the boy.

At the Wednesday session a number of witnesses were called, four of the companions with young Collins at the time of the shooting. One was Ernest Collins, a younger brother, Richard Denney, Pat McGuinn and Merton Thayer.

Fred P. Dengler, chief investigator of the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Investigation at the London Prison Farm, offered the most damaging evidence against the aged marshal Wednesday morning. Dengler, who was called in to make a paraffin test of the marshal's hand on the day following the shooting, said he heard McLean confess that he fired the shot which killed the Collins boy. "I wouldn't have killed the boy deliberately for $10,000," Dengler quoted McLean as saying.

WILL CEDARVILLE ACCEPT THE OPPORTUNITY?

There are numerous factories in the central states that are closed down by strikes and various labor disturbances. The management of many are casting about for new locations, especially to get away from the large city labor union centers.

At the present time the labor organizers are centering attention on employees in various paper mills in the Miami Valley as well as in other states. All industry about Dayton as a hub is looked upon as a good field for organization. In Clark county the movement is invading rural farm help and the plea is being made that farmers are not paying high enough wages with the government paying farmers for not producing crops.

We have one empty factory building suitable for certain kinds of paper making as well as for other industry. Shipping facilities are as good as the average city. Fire protection and the advantages of excellent schools.

To interest any one of the industries now down on strike would mean local people would have to subscribe to a fund in amounts that really mean something. A company could not and would not move a plant unless reimbursed for the cost.

In addition local people would be compelled to make open pledge that no union activity would be permitted, even though it would require force to protect the industry.

The opportunity is just around the corner and worth consideration. Once again it means investment on the part of local people. It means that you would be required to protect that investment against labor organizers no matter what the consequences might be. It would be a question of the local citizens dictating a policy for the town or letting radical outsiders come in and telling each and everyone just what had to be done. We have faith in local citizenship. Let's give this movement consideration.

CORN, WHEAT OR TOMATOES, POTATOES, WHICH?

The Communists down in Washington are telling the American farmers just what they can or must do next season. They cannot exceed a certain amount of wheat for the New Dealers have contracted to purchase Canadian wheat and give it to England. You are told we must produce more pork and then you are told you cannot produce more corn. This makes it possible for the New Deal to import corn from Argentina in competition with local farmers.

There is a bright star in the New Deal heaven. All farmers can raise more tomatoes and potatoes. Also more eggs, butter, and cheese, yet it takes corn and other grain feed to get eggs and butter.

How you can handle a crop of tomatoes with corn and wheat implements we do not know. That is one weak link in the new chain of 1942 prosperity for the farmer. This need can only be supplied by industry that is told it cannot produce any more machinery as we must have bullets and battleships for "Bloody Joe" in Russia, the head of the movement in Russia and the United States.

Growing tomatoes instead of corn and wheat will be an innovation to Ohio farmers and give present growers of these garden crops new competition. It is said the tomato acreage this year has swamped canning factories and acre after acre are rotting in the fields. The cannery has its problem under our present day of Washington remote control. Now they get the word no more tin cans for we must send the metal across the ditch in the form of war equipment. This checks the tomato sale so far as these farmers are concerned.

It is a big problem out for the AAA next year and as one farmer expressed it, "There was a time when tomatoes were fired at from actors instead of bullets. He thinks we may need a good crop for the AAA show the coming year." The "free-traders" are planning to do the farmer GOOD next year.

The Kettle

There is a reason for referring to "defense" rather than "war". The heaviest income tax bill in history will soon be collected, at least by next March. Roosevelt asks for another six billion "defense" for England and Russia. It means that 4,000,000 new taxpayers will be added to the government roll. A second tax bill is now in formation with a third being held to the last, the one that will put a tax on you if you cannot show that you have purchased a certain amount of "defense" for this year. For this it is now proposed by one congressman that every employee in every capacity from factory to farm be compelled to give what is equal to two months salary or wages as his or her share in the European war, the same to be deducted each week. Canada has a five per cent payroll check tax that must be deducted from each check where employment is paid.

Several thousand citizens in this district have been given notice by the internal revenue department that they are not fully paid up with the government on income taxes. Most of these notices go to the taxpayer that probably had his first experience last year. There will be many more this coming year under the recent law. You are not only asked to pay up in full but you are charged interest also. This makes the case more interesting. There was a time when the average citizen paid little attention to income taxes but the New Deal has changed that situation by adding a few more million of the little fellows each year so that they can join in with the big fellows. It is reported that depreciation of farm buildings will be lowered and put on the same basis as industry. A new appraisal for income taxes each six or seven years instead of ten.

The congressional investigation about the movie industry being used to spread war propaganda has caused much comment in and out of picture circles. It has been charged the New Deal used government funds to pay for making certain so-called war pictures that exhibitors over the nation were compelled to accept and pay for. This statement has not been denied other than by silence on the part of war and navy departments. Jimmy Fidler, who publishes a film magazine at Hollywood, Calif., took the stand and testified that he had been offered $3,000 to give endorsement of a certain war picture in his magazine. Fidler has been noted for his critical comment of pictures. He first became noted for his one-two and three bell idea of certain pictures, especially for young folks. The administration seems content to let the investigation die rather than press for additional hearings. The part Wendell Willkie played as representing the picture interests developed but one thing, that he is being paid $100,000 by the combined picture industry rather than the first report of only $50,000.

Of course you read the daily dispatch Wednesday where the Federal Reserve Bank, New Deal controlled, ordered $1,200,000,000 of bank deposits in the nation "frozen," to help check inflation. In case you did not read this item look it up and read it yourself. This money that is to go out of circulation by the "freezing process" is not the money belonging to the banks but the money that belongs to the depositors. Some of these days you will get your order direct to purchase "defense" bonds to help finance "Bloody Joe" Stalin over in Russia. When the time comes that government departments insist on the newspapers of the nation referring to the war program as "defense," you can see for yourself what you are up against. It sounds better to appeal for "war for Europe" support in the name of defense. Every government department uses the same methods, even down to the county AAA, the last cog in the Communist wheel.

We have attended a number of group farmer meetings recently and made some effort to sound public sentiment as to about how much support the special tax levy for relief will get at the coming election. At this time if we are able to make a guess someone will have to import supporters for the levy to get even a fifty-fifty vote. As it requires 65 per cent the issue will have hard sledding. The next inquiry would be as to the reason for sentiment as it is. The answer in each case goes to the present taxes and the burdensome new federal taxes, especially where the lower bracket incomes even on the average farm will be hit.

Numerous Democrats are predicting the demand being made by cities for more tax money will in the end defeat any candidate that can be nominated by that party in the state. Gov. Bricker is receiving almost solid support in the rural counties and an estimated seventy-five per cent support even in some cities for his stand in paying off first the inherited debt of a former administration and building a surplus to meet the next financial emergency that is as sure to hit the nation as there is a war in Europe. Paying off billion dollar debts for any purpose will leave a sting on risk and poor alike. It cannot be escaped. Gov. Bricker has warned the people and they are behind him. The financial situation in the nation will make him the logical candidate for president.

There has been a hearing in Cincinnati, connection with the Ohio Compensation employees. Charges are brought under the famous Hatch law passed by Congress last year. All those on the "carpet" are Republicans, no charges being filed against Democratic employees that were active for Roosevelt. Ohio Republican leaders are watching the proceedings with interest. When the law was passed the Republicans realized they would be the first to feel the heat of the New Deal. However, the administration has guarded back in the counties and gathered plenty of evidence at home that has been in cold storage to date. Three definite charges against New Deal appointees under civil service can be uncovered in this county any time.

Temperance Notes

Cedarville W. C. T. U.

Too Risky Business

Drinking is much too risky a business for indulgence by young people who are anxious to make a good impression. The desire of all normal human beings is to appear at their best before the opposite sex. Sometimes very young people, and occasionally thoughtless oldsters, who possibly might not be informed on the subject of the effect of alcohol on human behavior, think they are smart to drink in the company of the person whom they wish to impress. Too often they find that they were very greatly mistaken, for nothing is more repulsive than the man or the woman who is showing the effects of alcohol.

A little couplet in the Chicago Tribune of recent date is only too true, as many sorry people could testify:

"It's old, but sometimes fate will hinge
On the way you act when on a binge."

Research into the development of alcoholism indicates that beer drinking usually is the first step, habit forming; and then followed by distilled liquors. Yet, in our camps, beer is made available to these men night after night for at least a year.

All available facts, particularly those from sports and traffic research prove that even a very small percentage of alcohol in the blood can slow up muscular and mental ability—and weaken moral safeguards. Alcohol is in beer just as in whiskey. Beer intoxicates. Beer drinking means alcohol in the blood.

Liquor doesn't make soldiers. A majority of the nation's religious, welfare, and temperance organizations are protesting the sale of beer in military camps.

Worried Over Young People

Particular concern is expressed about young people frequenting corner cafes and a campaign is urged by Le Temps to keep the youth organizations now springing up from choosing cafes as meeting places.

These meetings must be held in places where no liquor is sold, urges Le Temps.

McLean Trial

The state official testified that the paraffin test definitely showed that McLean had fired a firearm at some time during 24 hours preceding the test.

Elmer Burba of Cedarville, testified that he saw McLean on the night of the fatal shooting, McLean asking him what had happened. Burba told the marshal the Collins boy had been shot, and that he (McLean) was suspected. McLean denied any part in the shooting. Burba said, stating that he had been home in bed. Others testifying were J. M. McMillan, funeral director; David Taylor, ex-deputy marshal and Thomas Heathcock.

Character witnesses for McLean were C. E. Masters, grocer, and C. H. Crouse, both members of the Cedarville council; Elmer P. Frame, former deputy marshal at Cedarville, and M. C. Nagley, Cedarville merchant, one of his housemates.

Dr. R. L. Haines, Jamestown, former Greene County coroner, the only other defense witness called, who treated the ex-marshal for a serious physical ailment a few years ago, testified McLean had poor eyesight and would be unable to identify the occupants of a moving car.

Judge Johnson ruled inadmissible any evidence with respect to whether the defendant had fired into the air in attempts to scare boys during his term in office.

The Wednesday afternoon session closed without the defendant taking the stand. A recess was taken until Thursday morning when the closing arguments were made and the jury charged by the Court.

McLean was represented by Norman Wiseman and Harry P. Jeffrey, Dayton, while Prosecutor Marcus Shoup represented the state.

The Dramatic Club met on Tuesday, September 23, for its organization. Officers were elected for the coming year and the cast was selected for their first presentation. Every member took part in presenting one of pantomimes which enabled Miss Basore, the director, to analyze the particular talents of the new members. The officers are: President, Laurel Diltz; Vice president, Dorothy Bogenrife; Secretary, Beatrice O'Bryant; Treasurer, Clayton Wiseman.

A local fraternity, the Chi Mu Delta, was organized Monday in a meeting in the basement of the library. Layden Wilson was elected president of the group by the charter members. These members are: Lee Miller, Dave Galey, Bob Allen, Bob Gushie, Hal Guthrie, Bill Meahl, Allen Craig, John Sanders and Hank Campbell, who holds the office of secretary-treasurer. Coach C. D. Pyatte is the Delta advisor.

The Freshmen have been going through the rigorous activities of Freshman Week. The activities included the traditional tug-of-war at Willow Bend, the Freshman Chapel on Thursday, the fishing trip on Wednesday, and, of course, the eccentric costumes which the Freshies were forced to wear.

Freshman Week was climaxed by the Y. W. and Y. M. Mixer at the gymnasium Thursday night. This event, designed to better acquaint students with one another in social life, proved to be the high point of the week as the Freshmen were acclaimed as full-fledged students.

Members of the faculty and their guests spent a very pleasant evening on Friday, Sept. 19, when they entertained at a dinner party at Harriman Hall honoring the new faculty members.

Coach C. D. Pyatte issued the call for baseball players Wednesday, September 24 for practice in preparation for games with Wilmington College next week. Preliminary views are that several Freshmen will take over positions held by students who graduated or are not in school this year.

President Kilpatrick made a trip to Pittsburgh Wednesday in order to attend the opening convention at Western Seminary. Thursday evening President Kilpatrick left by plane for Chicago where he will spend the remainder of the week. On Sunday morning he will preach in St. Paul's Union Church, where Dr. William Wallace Hiff is the pastor.

der which additional billions in tax revenue will be raised.

Over in the Senate things have been moving along at a merry clip during the past couple of weeks, especially in the hearings of the Senate Committee conducting the investigation of the movie industry, which has been charged with producing war propaganda.

Wendell Wilkie, ex-Democrat, former public utility tycoon, and late Republican candidate for President, has been chief counsel for the harassed movie executives, for which services he is reported to receive a fee of one hundred thousand dollars. The investigation reached a high point last week when members of the Senate Committee revealed they had received information that Mr. Wilkie's employment by the movie industry had been demanded and arranged for by James Roosevelt, son of the President, who was engaged in film production until he lately began active duty as a Reserve Captain in the Marine Corps.

This is the day of specialization. This shop, under the direction of four registered Pharmacists, specializes in the filling of prescriptions. Their patrons are assured that they are exact in this service, correct in their compounding and giving of proper directions. They take care of their out of town customers by parcel post, giving all orders prompt attention. Schmidt's Drug Store maintains one of the most complete departments of surgical and sick room supplies in this part of the State. Here they feature abdominal belts, arch supports, elastic hosiery, trusses, surgical bandages, etc. They give expert fittings. They have a very complete assortment of canes and crutches, and also wheel chairs which they sell or rent. Buy a home and apply your rent on the payment. See us for plans. HINSON Located on Columbia at Wittenberg, offers personalized floors of distinction, featuring fine linoleums, Congoleum Deluxe Rugs, and Royalite Rubber Floors; also Pella Venetian Blinds, and Brelin Window Shades. Many interior decorators agree that the floor covering is the foundation from which to build in evolving your decorating scheme. So the floor covering is a most important feature that adds to or detracts from the desired effect. Floor coverings that harmonize with walls, draperies, etc., make for pleasant surroundings, which contribute to a more livable home. Whatever may be your taste in shades and designs, Mr. Hinson can serve you, for they have one of the widest selections in the City. Let him help you with your plans. The pioneer in this research was a Dutch Physician on the Isle of Java who discovered that his chickens which were fed on polished rice died, while those fed on rice without the husk being removed, continued vigorous. This simple discovery started continuous experiments which have proved the importance and necessity of vitamins to life and health. McLaughlin's feature foods that supply these necessary vitamins. They not only feed the body but they aid in keeping its processes in perfect running order. Perfect digestion and perfect elimination combined with sufficient exercise, sunshine and fresh air spell perfect health.	BARLE K. HAWKEN &amp; SONS At 19 N. If this continues the time will come when we have nothing but mechanical music, and no artists to play for the masses. If you have children in the home, there should be a piano or other instrument there. Hawken's are featuring some outstanding values.
